GERMAN NAMED
SHELTON NOMINEE

BESSIE GERMAN, DIRECTOR OF EDUCATIONAL TALENT SEARCH at Shelton State, was elected recently to represent the college in the Tombigee Girl Scout Council Women Committed to Excellence Awards program. She is a nationally certified counselor who has given many hours in tutoring and workshop presentations to schools in West Alabama. Each year she works with over 950 students.

German came to Shelton in 1980 as outreach specialist and was named director of Educational Talent Search several years later. Under her leadership, Shelton's program was named one of the top 10 programs in the United States, the Caribbean and Virgin Islands. She initiated many programs and workshops on testing, academic success, and interviewing skills. German was responsible for the academic pep rallies held at Shelton.

She has served as minister of music at Elizabeth Baptist church for 22 years and supervises seven vocal choirs and one hand bell choir.

She has been recognized for her 24 years of outstanding service by the Alabama Association of Educational Opportunity Program Personnel and was named the outstanding counselor of the year in Tuscaloosa. She has also been recognized for her volunteer efforts in education by the Tuscaloosa City Schools and for assistance in blood drives by the American Red Cross.

German has worked to raise money to take students under her guidance to destinations such as Orlando, New Orleans, Memphis, Los Angeles, Mobile, Birmingham, Jackson and many other places. She holds numerous early morning counseling sessions and initiated two mentoring programs in the Tuscaloosa City School System.

She has served as president and chair of the Alabama Association of Educational Opportunity Program Personnel, is a board member of the Southeastern Association of Educational Opportunity Program Personnel, and was a member of the board of the National Council of Educational Opportunity Association from 1985-87.

LACES 'N PLACES

STEPHANIE EDGEWORTH, a part-time nursing instructor, has moved from the practical nursing department to the associate degree program as clinical coordinator.

MARTHA RICHARDSON, who had been working with the program, recently reduced her number of hours at Shelton in order to continue her graduate studies.

* The December practical nursing graduates held their pinning ceremony on December 15 at the Circlewood Baptist Church. Georgene Wright, nurse recruiter for DCH Regional Medical Center, was the featured speaker. Fifty-seven students completed the program in December.

JOYCE ROBINSON has moved from the practical nursing faculty to the associate degree nursing faculty. She will be missed on the Fifteenth Street Campus but will be welcomed with open arms on the Skyland Campus.

MARTHA ANN HILL spoke recently at the Community Service Network of Tuscaloosa. A highly respected speaker in the area, Hill is scheduled to speak February 10 at the University of Alabama to the Student Society of Coordinating Councils.

* Kudos and more Kudos to JIMMY OSMORE for his work with the Spring Semester schedule for everyone. Don't know what we would do without you, Jimmy!

* Shelton vice president Ted Spring, academic dean Arthur Howington, Joyce Jolly, director of planning, and Louise Lewis, Title III coordinator, represented the college at a meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools that was held in Atlanta before Christmas.

* A special Shelton welcome to Kathleen Sweeney, who was recently hired to direct the college's travel and tourism program, and to Rick Shelton, who returns to Shelton as director of recruitment after a year's leave of absence with the Alabama Department of Education.

* Shelton instructor JACKIE WILLIAMS served as a debate judge for the annual Raymond B. Furlong Forensic Tournament held recently at Huntingdon College in Montgomery, Alabama. Eighteen high schools participated in the two-day tournament.

* Shelton's Black History Month this year offered a variety of interesting programs. On Monday, January 29, the League of Women Voters hosted a seminar on race relations in Tuscaloosa in Shelton's Skyland auditorium. On Friday, February 2, Dr. Ethel Hall, vice chair of the Alabama State Board of Education, and James Hood, a member of the New College faculty at the University of Alabama, will speak to faculty and students on the C.A. Fredd Campus.

INFO ON SCHOLAR BOWL

Recently the Shelton State Scholar Bowl traveled to Troy State University to compete against 13 other junior and community colleges in the state. During the first five-game round-robin, Shelton's record was only three wins and two losses, but the team came through during the playoffs. In the quarter finals, Shelton defeated Wallace of Hancevill 205-110. In the semi final game, Shelton defeated the Brewer Campus of Bevill State 301-50. In the finals, the team from Shoals Community College defeated Shelton 280-190.

Members of the Shelton State team are: Seisha Rollins; Jason Mauldin, captain; Kevin Windham; Todd Powell; and Adam Foster. Members of the team who were unable to attend the meet were Heather Clanton and Daniel Sample. The team will compete for the state championship in March.

By Arthur Howington, Dean of Academic Services

Recently, the college approved a recommendation to change the name of the Division of Mathematics and Statistics to the Division of Mathematics. Statistics will return to the Division of Computer Science and Business. Ruby Miller will continue to chair the Division of Mathematics and Darryl Wright will remain the chair of the Division of Computer Science and Business.

Martha Ann Hill, who is a fine statistics instructor, has returned to the classroom on a full-time basis. Since teaching statistics is now her primary responsibility and all of the statistics courses offered at Shelton are business statistics, Martha Ann has been assigned to the Division of Computer Science and Business.
